

Collectively Caring for Indigenous Children and Youth:

An Ottawa Aboriginal Coalition Initiative

Recruiting 30
Indigenous Families in Ottawa!

BACKGROUND

The Ottawa Aboriginal Coalition in collaboration with Kids Come First wants to connect with 30 Indigenous families who have experienced barriers in accessing these services for their children and youth: mental health supports, developmental and cognitive assessment tools, and pediatric dentistry services.

FAMILIES

First Nation, Métis, and Inuit families with children/youth ages 1-17 in Ottawa.

YOUR ROLE

Sharing your story will help improve access to healthcare services for other Indigenous families by building on our collective story to improve healthcare access for Indigenous children, youth and families.

SUPPORTS

Participants will receive $500 to recognize their contribution and will have access to counsellors and Elders.
